

Thanks to Indiana's no call list, I went from receiving a call every couple days to none at all. I haven't gotten a single unwanted call since I was added to the list. If the FCC insists on a national no call law, at least make it strict enough to do the job or leave Indiana out of it.